Herring Notes.

Sch. Constellation sailed for Bay of Islands, N. F., yesterday under command of Capt. John Curzon. She is equipped with pans for artificially freezing herring.

Herring are fairly abundant in Fortune Bay, N. F., and a good catch is expected the coming season. At St. Jacques there are Nova Scotia vessels seeking cargoes and several American firms have wired to Buffet as to the chances of their vessels securing trips if sent on. It looks as if the herring are returning to their old haunts in Placentia and Fortune Bays.

Herring Notes.

The Bay of Islands, N. F., Western Star of Wednesday has the following herring items of interest:

Herring are plentiful at Lark Harbor, but there are no vessels there.

Schs. Independence and Nourmahal have failed with full cargoes for Gloucester.

There are no vessels at Bonne Bay buying herrings this season. Fishermen report the fish very scarce both at Shoal Brook and Woody Point.

At Middle Arm herring are fairly abundant and some few barrels are being taken in the Humber Arm. At North Arm the fish are scarce just now; some fishermen say this is due to the complete barring of the Arm with nets.

The barge J. K. Manning, being operated at North Arm by a cold storage company, will likely prove a big success. The barge is well equipped with modern refrigerating apparatus, and, being right on the spot where the herring are taken from the water, there should be no difficulty in turning out thousands of barrels of bright, clean herring, providing of course, that the supply of herring keeps up.

Mackerel Notes.

Mackerel continue scarce in the market as the fish, though plentiful outside, are wild and hard to catch. One of the Gloucester seining fleet, fishing off the harbor Wednesday night, had a set, but the fish were going too fast to be caught. It was expected some hauls would be made Friday night. A small number were taken in the nets at Devil's Island Thursday night. Codfish and haddock are beginning to come in more plentifully.—Halifax Chronicle.
