SWAMPED WITH FISH.

T Wharf Has Fleet of 53 Vessels In This Morning.

Receipts of Fresh Fish Aggregated Nearly 1,500,000 Pounds.

This is another big fish day for Boston, and should the great number of arrivals up to 8 o'clock this morning be followed during the day and Tuesday by another big bunch, the great record of Monday and Tuesday of last week, when 102 vessels brought in 3,000,000 pounds of fish, will be equalled, if not excelled and cast in the shade.

Just as long as good fish weather continues, just so long will the big trips pile in at T wharf. The dealers, as well as the skippers and fishermen themselves, really would like colder weather and more blowy days, which would mean fewer and smaller trips out a much better market.

At Boston today, up to 8 o'clock, 53 fishing vessels were reported with 1,352,000 pounds or better, of fresh fish. There is considerable hake in the lots and most of this will probably come to this port to split.

There are several big trips there, sch. Tartar being high line with 105,000 pounds, most all haddock and cod. Sch. Catherine and Ellen has 71,000 pounds, sch. Helen B. Thomas, 60,000 pounds, sch. Elizabeth Silsbee, 70,000 pounds, sch. Benjamin F. Phillips, 60,000 pounds, sch. Oliver F. Hutchins, 58,000 pounds, sch. Manhassset, 52,000 pounds, and sch. Thomas S. Gorton, 78,000 pounds.

Good Halibut Trip.

Sch. Monitor, Capt. John McKay, arrived yesterday from Green Bank with 30,000 pounds of halibut. Capt. McKay spoke no vessels, but passed a number of American deck handliners to the southward of Sable island on the way home.

Oct. 27.

The Salt In the Sea.

A scientist has calculated, after extensive tests of the density and saltness of the ocean in all parts of the world, that there is the equivalent of 5,051,342 cubic geographical miles of common salt in all the known seas. This is more than five times the mass of the mountains in the entire Alpine range.

Oct. 27.

Pollockers Doing Better.

The pollock fleet has begun to do a little better and it is hoped that the fish are striking on. There are 16 sail of them at Boston today with fares of from 10,000 to 20,000 pounds.

Oct. 27.

Oct. 27.

Mackerel at T Wharf.

Capt. George Perry of sch. Warren M. Goodspeed, who went out last Wednesday afternoon, was back at T wharf Boston, Monday morning, with a good trip. He had also a mackerel weighing four pounds which had been taken on a trawl by Garrett Curtis. There were four other mackerel at the wharf, taken in nets on the power boat Edna, whose crew left here yesterday afternoon and returned this morning from Lynn harbor with 15 barrels of herring, 300 pounds of flounders, the mackerel and a single smelt that weighed a pound. The night's work will give each of her four men $6 for their work of a few hours.

Oct. 27.

Market Dull at Boston.

The fish market at Boston today is very dull. There is no sale for off shore codfish and hake are going to the splitters at 40 cents per hundred weight. What fish is being taken from the boats is bringing a good price, but even these are moving slowly. The fish receipts at T wharf yesterday up to closing time, totalled 1,750,000 pounds.

Oct. 27.

Halibut Sale.

The fare of sch. Monitor sold to the New England Fish Co. at 10 cents per pound for white and 8 cents per pound for gray.
