LUCKY FIND.

Sch. Titania Picks Up Sch. Mary E. Smith's Whole String of Nets.

Sch. Titania, Capt. Archie Selig, which arrived from Georges haddocking this morning, brought in the whole string of nets, 65 in number, belonging to sch. Mary E. Smith of Portland, which the craft lost about 20 miles off Thacher's island a few nights ago. The nets contained 606 large mackerel.

Capt. Selig reports picking up the nets 18 miles off Thacher's island, and he also saw several schools of fish, which he took to be mackerel in the vicinity.

The Trouble Is in Newfoundland.

The fishery trouble in Newfoundland, says the St. Johns N. B. Sun, is not so much between Newfoundland and the Gloucester fishermen as it is between the Colonial Government and her fishermen. What has been going on in Newfoundland has occurred in New Brunswick. It is understood that fish are constantly bought on the Bay of Fundy coast of New Brunswick by Maine people and entered through the custom houses of the United States as the catch of the purchaser.

The seller knows that he cannot himself take the fish to a United States port and enter them free of duty. The purchaser knows that he is obtaining a free entry of fish which the law declares to be dutiable. It is well known to the officers who pass the entry to their superiors at Washington, and to Congress, that this is a regular practice. But it goes on. It gives to the United States parties interested all the free trade they want, and no more.

Serious Condition of Affairs at St. Pierre.

A despatch from Sydney, C. B., says:

"Advices reaching here from the island of Miquelon indicate that a serious condition exists in the French colony which forms the city of St. Pierre. The fisheries, which constitute the chief and almost the sole industry of the colony, were so unproductive during the past season as to be considered a practical failure.

"This misfortune has been reflected in the entire business life of the island, and the result is that the inhabitants feel that they are face to face with starvation during the coming winter.

With this discouraging prospect hundreds of the colonists are leaving the island and proceeding either to Canada or to France. Over 600 already have arrived in this city.

It is expected that an appeal will be made to the French government."

Taking Prompt Action.

The St. John's, N. F. Free Press says: "It is gratifying to note that the government are dealing with the matter of the fouling of the herring grounds in Bay of Islands. It is notorious that the herring fishery on the Labrador and in Placentia and Fortune Bays, has been killed by this means, and advices this year state that large quantities of herring have been thrown overboard in Bay of Islands, threatening destruction to the fishery there. The government has appointed the following men to see that this thing is not carried on any longer.—J. Barry, Summer-Meadow point; B. Bernard, Woods' Is-side; S. Allen, Birchy Cove; Ed. Brake, land; J. Cox, Middle Arm; P. Reardon and Inspector O'Reilly.
