STARTED IN FISH DRYER.

Rockland, Maine, Had an $80,000 Fire on Sunday.

Fanned by a strong sontheast wind, a fire which started in the dryer of the plant of A. C. McLoan & Co., wholesale fish dealers at Rockland, Me., swept over an acre and a half of water front property Sunday afternoon, destroying the fish plant, a large lime shed, two lime kilns, a large storehouse, about 500 feet of the trestle work of the Lime Rock railroad and about $6000 worth of cured fish owned by H. B. & C. O. Percy, wholesale fish dealers. The estimate loss is $80,000 and is nearly covered by insurance.

SALT FISHERMEN.

To Make North Sydney. N. S., a Fall Fitting Station.

A North Sydney, C. B., dispatch in a Sydney exchange says: "A report has been current here for a few days that a fleet of 40 or 50 of American salt fishing vessels will come here shortly to fit out for the fall fishing and that hereafter this port will be depended upon for supplies to a greater extent than in the past. Some of the Gloucester fleet at least will come, as there are a number of vessels still out on their first trip which will save considerable time by obtaining their stores and other supplies here."
