RECORD EQUALLED.

Sch. Senator Gardner Only 19 Days on Herring Trip.

Capt. Bonia Will Now Go Back for Another Cargo.

Sch. Senator Gardner, Capt. Joseph Bonia, arrived from Bay of Islands, N. F., on Thursday afternoon, after a passage of eight days.

The Gardner left here Saturday, November 10, for a cargo of salt herring, and Capt. Bonia, whose hustling qualities are too well-known to need extended comment here, said he would be back in three weeks with a full cargo. He kept his word and had two days to spare.

This trip of Capt. Bonia equals the best record ever made on a Newfoundland herring trip, the record, by the way, being his own, 19 days, which he made a few years ago in sch. Carrie W. Babson.

The Gardner had foresail and jib split on the passage home.

Mackerel News.

The foreign receipts of salt mackerel this week have been 920 bbls., being from Nova Scotia. They vary in size and quality and are quoted from first hands at from $9 per bbl. for 3s to $14 for 1s. There have been no receipts of Irish mackerel in Boston during the week, and the prevailing opinion is that there are not many more to come forward as the catch on the Irish coasts has proved disappointing. The steamer Halifax, due in Boston to-day, has a few hundred barrels aboard.

A few fresh mackerel continue to arrive from southern points, and are quoted at 20 cents each for large, 18 cents for medium and 10 cents for small from first hands. The weirs are still down at Provincetown, but the nets have been taken up, and the catch of fall mackerel has been the poorest on record.

The imports of salt mackerel at Boston to date since January 1 are 29,397 barrels.

The receipts of Irish and Norway mackerel this week are 48 bbls. Irish, 513 bbls. Norway at New York, and 559 bbls. Irish at Philadelphia. The corresponding week in 1899 the receipts were 37 bbls. Irish at Boston and 292 bbls. Irish, 162 bbls. Norway at Boston.
