MORE FRESH MACKEREL.

Three Fares Landed at Fortress Munroe Friday Afternoon

Trips of the Trio Amount to Ninety-Three Barrels.

Schs. Constellation, Grayling and Nourmahal the Crafts There.

A special despatch to the TIMES announces the arrival of two more Gloucester seiners at Fortress Munroe, Va., with fares of fresh mackerel. The fortunate crafts are the new gasoline auxiliary sch. Constellation, Capt. Thaddeus Morgan, and sch. Grayling, Capt. Reuben Cameron. The Constellation landed 37 barrels of fresh mackerel and the Grayling 21 barrels. The telegram did not state the size of the fish.

This is the maiden trip for the Constellation and are the second and third mackerel fares of the season.

The fish were shipped by express this morning to New York, the fare of the Constellation being consigned to George T. Moon of Fulton Market.

Both Capt. Morgan and Capt. Cameron are well-known hustlers and are always found among the leaders of the fleet.

Both vessels go from the firm of Orlando Merchant.

Another later dispatch states that sch. Nourmahal, Capt. Wallace Parsons, also arrived at Fortress Munroe with 35 barrels of fresh mackerel. Capt. Parsons is one of the young skippers and has started the season well. The Nourmahal is owned by Cunningham & Thompson.
