SEINERS OFF SAMRBO.

Steamer Reports Fleet Were Taking Mackerel Thursday.

FEW NETTERS AT NEW YORK.

Fish in Very Liberal Receipt Today at Newport.

Tho Halifax Herald of Saturdays says:

"The fleet of American fishing schooners which came into Halifax to learn of the whereabouts of the mackerel, profited by their experience. They left here Thursday and Capt. Farrell of the Sylvia, reports meeting them the same evening, all busy taking mackerel. He spoke the sch. Miranda, and the captain replied there was more than they could take. The vessels were about six miles off Sambro.

The Dominion Fisheries Intelligence Bureau of May 21, gives the following information regarding mackerel: None at Port La Tour; few large fish taken at Lunenburg; at Isaac's Harbor, fair; at Lardoise, signs of fish.

Mackerel were reported Wednesday schooling east of Chebucto Heae. All the American seiners sailed early that morning.

One hundred barrels mackerel arrived at Boston from Yarmouth N. S., via steamer Sunday.

Some of the American seining schooner captains objected to the customs house at Halifax, N. S., on Wednesday at the payment of port fees when they had not been in port twenty-four hours. The customs authorities notified the captains of all the schooners which had had communication with the shore that they must report.

The Dominion Intelligence Bureau of Friday gives the following later mackerel reports:

No fish at Clark's Harbor or Port La Tour; Lunenburg, 30; large mackerel reported schooling off Spry Bay.

Mackerel are now schooling freely off Halifax, N. S. The Cape Shore fleet is there.

SNAPPED AT BY SHARK.

Everett Small Narrowly Escaped Losing Hand.

WAS HAULING LOBSTER POTS.

Monster Leaped Out of Water and Teeth Scratched Fisherman.

Everett Small, a lobster fisherman, came very near having his hand bitten off by a shark this morning, and had a narrow escape from losing his life.

Mr. Small was hauling his pots in the vicinity of Norman's Woe, and had pulled one to the dory, when what is known as a swiveltail shark jumped from the water directly at the occupant of the dory. The teeth of the sharp scratched one of Mr. Small's hands, but otherwise no injury was done. It was a miraculous escape for Mr. Small, for had he been leaning over the water, the shark would have without a doubt snapped of the hand.

Mr. Small is very thankful that he escaped as he did, and he is not particular about repeating the incident.

Bank Codfish.

The fare of sch. Grace Darling sold to Slade Gorton & Co., at $3 per hundred weight for large and $2.55 for medium.

Mediterranean Mackerel.

Some interesting specimens of dried mackerel caught in the Mediterranean were received this week from Smyrna by a New York house, but it would not appear that they can ever compete with the North Atlantic mackerel as a food fish. They are only about six inches long, with large heads, but might do to can in good shape.
