ACCIDENT TO MACHINERY.

Forced Steamer Columbia Ashore on Ten Pound Island.

Hauled from Her Bad Position by Lighter Abbott Coffin.

The steamer Columbia of this port, which is under charter to the United States and in use by the U. S. Fish Commission in the collection of seed eggs for the Ten Pound Island station, was forced ashore Sunday morning, by the breaking down of her machinery on the outer point of Ten Pound Island and was quickly hauled off by the steam lighter Abbott Coffin.

The Columbia started out about 6 o'clock. In the meantime the lighter Abbot Coffin had started for Kettle Island to take up a fish trap there, but finding it too rough to attempt the job, was returning to her wharf when she heard the distress blasts of the steamer's whistle. She soon made out the Columbia ashore and went to her assistance.

It appeared that just as the Columbia was passing the point of the island something happened to her machinery and quickly she was blown on the shore and struck. The lighter made a line fast to her and pulled her off after she had been grounded about 10 minutes. It is thought that she is but little if any damaged.

March 13.

VALUABLE HAUL.

Two Brothers Get 20 Barrels Perch in West Tisbury Pond.

The two Loup brothers of West Tisbury made a great haul in the pond there a few days ago. The salt water flows in and out of the pond, as it is very near the edge of the sea. One day's work there netted them 20 barrels of sea perch, which in the New York market brought them $20 per barrel, a most remunerative day's work for two men.

March 13.

Fishing Facts and Fancies.

Science Siftings gives a brief account and a figure of a monster turtle caught in Corio Bay Geelong, Australia. It is of the class of coriaceous turtle, and is said to be the only specimen ever caught on the coast of Victoria. It measured about 20 feet, from fin to fin, 16 feet in girth, and 14 feet in length; its weight was about half a ton.

A corporation with $100,000 capital has been incorporated at Ogden, Utah, for the purpose of hatching fish for commercial purposes.

Fine Trip.

Sch. Flora S. Nickerson, Capt. Jethro Nickerson, is at Boston today with a big fare, 90,000 pounds of fresh fish. As prices are high, Capt. Nickerson and his crew will make one of the finest stocks and shares of the season.

March 14.

SCH. HOPE AT BOSTON.

Little Craft Weathered the Heavy Gales on Georges.

The little shore fishing sch. Hope, Capt. Benjamin Swim, which went to Georges for a trip of fish and encountered the heavy gale of week before last, and the anxiety for whose safety of the gale was relieved by the exclusive announcement in the TIMES of her safe arrival at Lockport, N. S., arrived at T wharf Boston, yesterday with a good trip. Capt. Swim reported that the gale was very severe but the little craft weathered it without damage, although driven far to leeward. After leaving Lockport, she went back to Georges and there took the whole force of last week's blow.

March 14.

Decrease in French Codfishing Exports.

The export of codfish from St. Pierre and Miquelon for the year 1905 totalled 246,824 quintals, as against 264,108 quintals for 1904. Governor Angouivant of St. Pierre said that in the three years there had been a reduction of two-thirds in the total.

Advices received at St. Johns, N. F., indicate that the French fishing fleet was smaller this season than for years past.
