

June 10thMEAT PRODUCTS
VERSUS FISH FOOD.

At this time, when the price of beef is rising almost daily until it has reached the highest price ever known, for the whole animal, it is pleasing to note that fish are in good receipt. Especially is this true of fresh and salt mackerel, the Cape Shore fleet appearing at its best, and sending in big fares of both fresh and salt fish daily.

It is believed that the prohibitive price of beef will naturally tend to its lesser use for the time being, and that people will seek cheaper food. In as far as this latter is concerned, fish undoubtedly fills the bill, and also is seasonable. Fish, although cheaper, much cheaper, is solid, substantial and body and brain building food, and in this hot weather is considered much better for one than beef.

The fact that for the past four days big trips of fresh mackerel have been landed at Boston, and that each day, in spite of the unusually large receipts, the price on both medium and large fish has advanced is food for thought that the great public, finding the price of beef prohibitive, are actually turning to fish, which is choice, cheaper and more seasonable.

Never before have so many fresh mackerel been landed by the Cape Shore fleet and sent up from Nova Scotia by boat and train also and been landed at Boston as in the past four days, and never before has the price advanced daily. Still, even now, the price is far from high and the fish are within the reach of all, even the poorest.

It certainly does look as if fish, for the time being, was king, and that high priced beef had been set aside in its favor. These good and advancing prices mean much to the Gloucester fishermen and vessel owner, and it does seem as though the old adage, "It is an ill wind that blows nobody good" is exemplified in this case, and that for once, Gloucester is the one who has the wind "fair."

June 10thLIKE NEVER KNOWN.

Of Schools of Large Mackerel Recently in Guysboro Bay.

Steamer There for Fresh Load and Many Being Salted.

The Canadian Fish Bureau of Monday reports mackerel taken in small quantities at Lunenburg. Very plenty at Queensport, West Arichat, Arichat and Gabarus. Fair at Descouse, Petit de Grat and St. Peters. At White Head 7000 were taken in nets Saturday last. The catch by shore fishermen there has been the largest in that section of Nova Scotia in many years.

A despatch from Guysboro, N. S., to the Halifax Chronicle, June 6, says the Chebucto Bay was literally alive with mackerel Saturday last, not in 25 years have the fishermen reaped such a harvest. One man took 2200 from six nets, at the mouth of Guysboro harbor, another 1800, while others, who had a larger number of nets, took as high as 6000 to a boat.

Beside the immense quantities, that local dealers are buying for the new government freezer, Capt. Philpot, from Port Hawkesbury, is there in a steamer and expects to take on 30,000 during the day for shipment to Boston.

In addition, hundreds of barrels are being salted, and so great is the catch that fishermen fear they will run short of barrels and salt. It is doubtful, the despatch says, if there ever was such a run of large mackerel in Chebucto Bay before.

Schs. Elmer E. Gray and Arabia arrived at Canso, N. S., Saturday last.

CAPE SHORE FIGURES.

Eighteen Vessels Have Landed
$88,000 Worth of Mackerel.

MANY BIG STOCKS AND SHARES.

Schs. Lucania and Esperanto Have Large Fares at Boston.

This morning's contribution to the growing and glowing work of the seiners on the Cape Shore is two fine trips, the opening of business at T wharf, Boston, finding schs. Lucania, Capt. Martin L. Welch, and Esperanto, Capt. Charles Maguire, there.

Sch. Lucania has 400 barrels of salt mackerel and 14,000 fresh mackerel in count and sch. Esperanto has 385 barrels of salt mackerel and 14,000 fresh mackerel. The fresh mackerel are selling at 15 and 15 3-4 cents each for large and 11 3-4 and 12 1-2 cents for mediums, thus keeping up the T wharf record of an advance of price on fresh mackerel every day since the arrival of the first trip last Saturday.

Both schs. Lucania and Esperanto are in for good stocks which will mean fine checks for the crew.

Word from Newport is to the effect that the mackerel landed there yesterday were mediums. The captains report mackerel from Montauk to Gay Head, but at present there did not seem to be a large body. The mackerel were mixed in with kyacs.

About 400 barrels are expected at Boston on the steamer from Halifax today.

The netters Valkyrie with nine barrels of large fresh mackerel and Parkhurst with 16 barrels were at Newport yesterday.

The netters Alice May with 30 barrels of large fresh mackerel and Beatrice with eight barrels were at New Bedford Wednesday. The netters Crescent and Bessie were at New Bedford yesterday with 31 barrels each of large fresh mackerel.

There were no netters at Newport this morning.

Thus far 18 vessels of the American seining fleet have arrived from the Cape Shore, with 4968 barrels of salt mackerel and 5366 barrels of fresh mackerel. Two vessels have landed their salt mackerel at Boston and all but one have landed their fresh ones there. Sixteen have landed their salt mackerel at this port. A conservative estimate of values places the salt mackerel landed thus far at worth $44,700 and the fresh mackerel $43,500, from this vessel. Thus the Cape Shore catch to date has been worth about $88,000.

Beside the vessels home, 22 others of the fleet have been heard from with an aggregate of about 5000 barrels, leaving 25 vessels of the fleet yet unaccounted for. Some of these latter are known to be not very well fished and estimate of the total salt catch of the whole Cape Shore fleet, by local mackerel dealer and vessel owners, range from 12,000 to 14,000 barrels.

Sch. Hattie M. Graham, Capt. Roy Kimball, was at North Sydney, C. B., yesterday with 300 barrels of salt mackerel. Capt. Kimball wired to find out the mackerel prospect up this way.

The crew of sch. A. M. Nicholson, Capt. Solomon Jacobs, shared $112.90 as the result of the recent Cape Shore trip.

Sch. Constellation, Capt. Charles H. Harty, stocked $5600 on her recent Cape Shore trip, the crew sharing $102.

The crew of sch. Priscilla Smith, Capt. William J. Corkum, shared $107.78 on their recent Cape Shore trip.

Sch. Annie Greenlaw, Capt. George C. Hamor, stocked $5000 on her Cape Shore trip, the crew sharing $114.48.

Sch. Electric Flash, Capt. William Bissert, stocked $3006 on her Cape Shore trip, the crew sharing $80.

Sch. Elizabeth Silsbee, Capt. John A. McKinnon, stocked $5850 on her Cape Shore trip, the crew sharing $125.38.

The crew of sch. Ingomar, Capt. Wallace Parsons, shared $105.65 on her recent Cape Shore trip.

Sch. Diana, Capt. James McLean, stocked $4600 on her Cape Shore trip, the crew sharing $106.

WAYS BROKE.

Sch. Athlete Careened on Beam Ends at North Sydney.

Was Hauling Out to Repair a Slight Leak.

Sch. Athlete, Capt. Leroy Spnney met with a mishap at North Sydney, C. B., yesterday, which may prove serious.

The craft, which is practically a new vessel and one of the salt bank fleet, touched somewhere recently and leaking slightly, went into North Sydney to go on the ways for examination and repairs.

While being hauled out on the ways something gave out and the craft careened and crashed over on her beam ends.

Capt. William H. Collins, agent of the Gloucester Mutual Fishing Insurance Co., has gone to the scene of the accident. The amount of damage to the craft has not yet been ascertained. It is understood that at the time of the accident, the vessel had over 200,000 pounds of salt cod on board.

BEST IN SUMMER.

Says Big Cleveland Dealer Regarding the Oyster.

"The old theory that oysters are fit for food only during the months in which the letter 'r' is to be found is exploded by H. Farrell, a prominent Cleveland oyster dealer, who says that as a matter of fact oysters are fat and in their prime in summer and entirely fit for food.

"The saying that oysters are unfit for food in months in which the letter 'r' is not present," Farrell says, "comes from an old law which made it illegal in England to catch oysters between May 14 and August 4.

"The reason for this was that oysters in England breed during that season. The law was passed to protect the oyster industry and not because the oysters themselves are unhealthy.

"It is a positive fact that American oysters are at their best during the summer months. They fatten during the warm weather and get thin and watery in the winter. They never reach the consumer in a state unfit for eating. The people in the east know these facts well enough and they appreciate the food value of oysters and enjoy them in the summer as well as in the winter.

"The main reason that fewer oysters are sold in summer in this city is because most of the retailers do not have the facilities to keep them. The oysters which are sold in summer, however, are received and distributed in a more sanitary manner than at any other season of the year."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

OFF ALBERTON, P. E. I.

Mackerel Are Now Reported To Be Plenty There.

■ The Canadian Fish Bureau report of Wednesday reports mackerel very plenty at Arichat, West Arichat, Deconesse and L'Ardiose with a few being taken Yarmouth in traps. The waters of Arichat harbor were reported teeming with mackerel and all the boats loaded.

What is most singular mackerel were reported plentiful at Alberton, P. E. I., which show that the body of fish now on the Provincial coast covers a large territory which extends from Bay of Fundy to Gulf of St. Lawrence. Such a situation has not been in evidence for many years.

Schs. Rob Roy, Theodore Roosevelt, Nellie Dixon, Arthur James, Saladin, Metamora, arrived at Canso Wednesday last.

Sch. Eglantine sailed from Louisburg, C. B., Wednesday last.

The fare of sch. Esperanto sold to William H. Jordan & Co., and that of sch. Lucania to Sylvanus Smith & Co.

SEINERS AT NEWPORT.

Two Landed Fresh Mackerel Fares There Yesterday.

Sch. "Alert Has Fine Cape Shore Trip at Boston.

Sch. Arthur Binney, Capt. Rufus McKay, was at Newport yesterday with 5000 fresh mackerel. Sch. Emerald, Capt. Al. Greenlaw, was also there with 4000 fresh mackerel.

Another of the Cape Shore seining fleet is at Boston this morning, sch. Alert, Capt. Almon I. Malloch, with 150 barrels of salt mackerel and 25,000 fresh mackerel in count.

The Cape Shore catch of salt mackerel is 5118 barrels. The Cape Shore seiners have also brought 5641 barrels of fresh mackerel.

The crew of sch. Independence II, Capt. Lemuel Firth, shared $102.68 on their Cape Shore trip.

The receipts of new salt mackerel this year are 1042 barrels, all Irish, against none at this time last year.

The fare of sch. Esperanto sold to William H. Jordan & Co. and that of sch. Lucania to Sylvanus Smith & Co. at $9 per barrel.

Sch. Clintonia, Capt. Ralph Webber, stocked $5140 on her Cape Shore trip, the crew sharing $120.84.

The catch of salt mackerel to date is 5161 barrels against 33 barrels at this time last year.

The catch of fresh mackerel to date is 13,539 barrels against 21,161 barrels at this time last year.

The following netters were at Newport yesterday:

- Sch. Lewis Totman, 25 barrels.
- Sch. Jennie H. Gilbert, 44 barrels.
- Sch. Sabine, 23 barrels.
- Sch. Gracie, 12 barrels.
- Sch. A. C. Newhall, 39 barrels.

A word from Dingle, Ireland, dated June 1 says 12,000 mackerel were cured last week. The fish are rather small going about 400 to 420 count to the barrel.

The following netters were at New Bedford Thursday with fresh mackerel.

- Sloop Minerva, 15 barrels.
- Sloop J. A. Caswell, 25 barrels.
- Sloop Dart, 25 barrels.
- Sloop Eleanor, 10 barrels.

The druggers at Provincetown got from 50 to 200 fish to a boat Thursday night.

The Halifax steamer had 898 barrels of fresh mackerel at Boston yesterday.

Sch. Lucania, at Boston yesterday from the Cape Shore, reported getting her last haul on Tuesday, 30 miles east of Causo.

Sch. Lafayette was at Newport yesterday with 3000 large fresh mackerel.

Capt. George Peebles was home from Newport, last night. He says that some of the mackerel landed there are being put in the new freezer. About all the mackerel taken are large, with a few scattering mediums. The seiners out there do not seem to think there is much body to the fish at present.

The steamer Bessie Dugan of Portland is fitting for mackerel seining at Boston.

Sch. Charles A. Dyer is in this morning with 75 barrels of fresh shad and 100 fresh mackerel in count, seined yesterday off here.

The salt mackerel of sch. Alert sold to Lincoln & Willey of Boston at $9 per barrel. The fresh one went to J. Burns & Co.

The following netters were at Newport yesterday and today:

- Sch. Hobo, 30 barrels large fresh mackerel
- Sch. Cherokee, 16 barrels large fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Sabine, 20 barrels large fresh mackerel.
- Sch. A. C. Newhall, 37 barrels, large fresh mackerel.
- Sch. Valkyrie, 20 barrels large fresh mackerel.

BIG WEEK'S WORK.

Little Sch. Valentinna Stocked Over $1600 on Swordfish.

Crew Profited Well, Sharing $115 to a Man.

Capt. Charles O'Neil of sch. Valentinna, which had the big swordfish trip at T wharf the first of the season, yesterday, report some of the fish very large for this time of the year, going over 300 pounds.

They got the first fish last Sunday on the southwestern part of Georges in 80 fathoms of water. The fish was brought alongside the vessel by Charles Peters, who went out in his dory after the fish had been speared.

Capt. O'Neil and his crew, after discharging the cargo, collected just $1656.75 from the dealers on the wharf.

The Valentinna had been out eight days on the trip and the 10 men comprising the crew each received $115 a an for his share.

Capt. O'Neil reported on his arrival that the swordfishermen Nokomis, Motor, Maromet, Eva Mildred and Ella M. Doughty, were all on Georges when he left there, cruising for fish.

The first trip brought in last year was by sch. Motor, which she loaded on June 24, and at that time had 42 fish to her credit. The recent trip is nearly two weeks ahead of last year's.

DESPERATE FIGHT.

Portland Fishermen Had Fierce Struggle with Swordfish.

The crew of sch. Eva and Mildred, which arrived at T wharf, Boston, yesterday, from the southern edge of Georges, told of a fierce fight between a swordfish and Anthony Dexter, one of the crew, which took place on the fishing grounds.

Dexter left the schooner in the dory to round up a 300-pound fish, which had been lanced by the man in the pulpit. The fish attempted to ram the dory with his sword, and it was some time before Dexter succeeded in getting it into the dory. Then it struck the seat, on which Dexter was sitting, with its tail, knocking the man into the water.

Dexter said the blow threw him into the air and he hardly knew what had happened until he struck the cold water. By that time the fish had worked the dory over on its side until one of the gunwales was under water. Dexter dove under the dory and coming up on the other side, succeeded in bringing the boat to an even keel. Then he tried to pull himself into the boat, and after much exertion he got over the side and fell on top of the fish.

Every time Dexter would try to regain his feet the tail of the monster would knock him down and he was in danger of being killed by the wicked sword, which the fish tried to push into his body. The boat was nearly full of water and the fisherman was fast becoming exhausted. By good luck he managed to hit the fish over the head with the end of an oar and won the battle.

ALL MONEY MAKERS.

Lots of Fine Ground Fish Trips Are in Today.

Three from Cape North Help Swell the Big Total.

Ground fish are in liberal receipt today, there being several large fares here and at Boston. Hake and cod predominate, with a sprinkling of cusk, pollock and haddock.

Sch. James W. Parker, Capt. George Tufts, is at this port from Cape North with 30,000 pounds of salt cod and 150,000 pounds of fresh cod, and sch. Raymah, Capt. Felix Hogan, is also here with 190,000 pounds of fresh cod. Sch. Onato, Capt. J. Henry Larkin, is at this port from Quero bank with 190,000 pounds of fresh cod and 5000 pounds of halibut.

From the Rips, sch. Volant, Capt. Allen Dolman, sch. Etta Mildred, Capt. John Swim, and sch. Olympia, Capt. Nickerson, each have about 50,000 pounds of salt cod, fine fares indeed.

The little steamer Mystery came in from Ipswich bay late yesterday afternoon, loaded to the gunwale and her seineboat full, towing behind. She had pollock and the captain called them 40,000 pounds.

The pretty sch. Maggie Turner of Portland is making her first call here, having 110,000 pounds, mostly hake, from the Maine coast.

Sch. Quickstep, Capt. Longmeyer, is in this morning with one of her usual loads of hake and cusk.

At Boston, outside the mackerel, the star trips are sch. Motor, Capt. Herman Pennington, of this port, with 52 swordfish, and the Portland sch. Eva and Mildred with 68 swordfish. There is big money in both these fares.

Sch. Alice M. Guthrie, Capt. Martin Guthrie, has 128,000 pounds, about all hake, from Cashes, and sch. Vanessa, Capt. Valentine O'Neil, from the same spot, has 140,000 pounds of the same kind of fish.

The little sch. Mattakesett, Capt. John Robbins, has a load of shack, 51,000 pounds. Several of the fresh Rips fleet are also there with good fares and in fact every trip here and Boston today is a money maker.

WHALING STEAMER LOST.

San Francisco, June 13.—A private cable from Nome received in this city says that the whaling steamer William Baylis of New Bedford, Mass., has been lost in the icepack in Anadyr bay, Siberia. It is believed her crew was rescued by the whaler Bowhead and are now on board the steam whaler Jeanette.
