Harbor Notes.

Sch. Ramona is fitting for a trip to Newfoundland under command of Capt. Richards. Sch. Harry A. Nickerson is fitting for dory handling. Capt. Ambrose Fleet is going seining in sch. Avalon. Capt. Roland Brewer is going seining in sch. Speculator. Sch. Motor, Capt. Pennington, is fitting for mackerel netting. Sch. Massasoit has gone netting.

Spoke Dismasted Craft

Capt. Herbert Green of the steam trawler Swell reports speaking sch. Hancock last Tuesday noon, while the latter craft was on her way from New York to Yarmouth. The Hancock carried away her mainmast in Sunday evening's squall and the captain was rigging a jury mast to continue his trip. The Hancock wished to be reported.

Bay Mackerel Sold.

The North Bay salt mackerel trip of sch. Pythian, sold to the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Company, for the lump sum of $1500. The craft had 75 barrels which figures the price per barrel at about $20.

Sept. 19.

Dory Came Ashore.

One of the dories of sch. Olivia Sears, with the name of the schooner on the bow, drove ashore at the Old Garden Beach, Rockport, during the storm of last Sunday night. It was brought into the harbor and taken to the wharf near the wharfinger's office, T dock, to await the claimant.

Salt Mackerel Sales.

The salt mackerel fare of sch. Pinta sold to the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Company this morning at $13.50 a barrel. The salt mackerel fare of sch. Georgia sold to the Knowles, Freeman Fish Company of Boston, at $23 a barrel for large and $13 for tinkers.

Fishing Steamer Satellite To Be Sold by U. S. Marshal.

Because of suits following the death by scalding of three men on the fishing steamer Satellite last summer, the vessel will be sold at United States marshal sale at noon on Saturday at Boston to the highest bidder. The steamer is owned by Capt. Alfred Sorensen and has been used in making daily excursions to the fishing grounds in the summer time.

She was once owned by a New York millionaire and was luxuriously furnished. Built at Marine City Mich., in 1894, she was named Unique, and later the Diamond State. She is 163 feet long, 20 feet beam and 11 feet depth of hold, with a net tonnage of 190 and a gross tonnage of 381.

Sch. G. M. Porter, New York for Eastport.

Tug Neponset, Boston.

Pacific Banker Here.

Sch. Alice, Capt. Malcolm McPhie, arrived at Anacortes a week ago Sunday from a five months' codfishing trip. Capt. McPhie says they are a larger lot than he has ever handled since engaging in the codfish trade on the Pacific coast. Several of the fish run to over 43 pounds after being dressed and there are a number of them only slightly smaller than that size, while the general size measures large and weighs heavily.

The cargo is estimated at no less than 385 tons, but is expected to reach more when the batch is weighed in.

Sept. 20.

BOATS DOING WELL AT NEWPORT

Seven Mackerel Fares There Yesterday, One Here, Two at Boston.

Two fresh mackerel fares were reported at T wharf yesterday afternoon, they being the steamers Ethel and Quoddy with tinker fresh fish taken off Nantucket.

The Ethel hauled for 12,000 pounds and the Quoddy, 10,000 pounds. The fish sold at 7.6 cents right through.

Sch. Dorcas, Capt. Joseph Graham arrived here yesterday afternoon with 1500 mixed fresh mackerel and 28 barrels of salt ones. The fresh fish sold at 25 cents each for large, 18 cents for medium and seven cents a pound for tinkers.

Newport Arrivals.

The following arrivals were reported at Newport yesterday:

Str. Philomena, 27 barrels fresh mackerel.

Sch. Mary Emerson, seven barrels fresh mackerel.

Sch. Freedom, 22 barrels fresh mackerel.

Sch. Alice, 17 barrels fresh mackerel.

Sept. 20.

New Concern Starts Business.

Arrangements are now complete for opening the premises purchased by the Newfoundland Fisheries Development Syndicate, Ltd., Benoit's Cove and Capt. Charles A. Swift who will manage this branch of the company's business will shortly take up headquarters at this point. The operation of this company will be watched with interest, as the industry in Newfoundland of packing under the Scotch method is in its infancy, and is capable of becoming a valuable asset to this part of the island. A complete cooperage will be installed for manufacturing barrels of Scotch pattern. Bloaters, kippers, red herring and later boneless codfish will be manufactured. Western Star.

Sept. 21.

GILL NETTING FLEET IS VERY LARGE.

Will Number Fully 30 Crafts This Coming Winter Season.

Gill netting, which has grown to be a very important factor in the local fall and winter fishery, promises to be carried on more extensively here the coming season than ever before, and already the little fleet of steamers and gasliners have given orders for getting their nets in readiness to start in when the season opens, less than six weeks hence.

When Capt. John W. Atwood, father of the gill netting fishery in Gloucester, started in with a few boats three years ago, few perhaps realized the importance to which this part of the fishery industry would grow. So successful did the experiment prove that some 18 crafts in all were engaged last season, which contributed largely to each day's receipts at this port, and meant money daily to many afloat and ashore.

All the old fleet will go gill netting, which includes steamers Ibsen, Alice, Quoddy, Eagle, Naomi Bruce, Mindora, Rough Rider, Margaret D., F. S. Willard, Prince Olaf, Nomad, Enterprise, Bethulia, Venture, Geisha.

Among the additions will be steamer R. J. Kellick, owned by Capt. William B. McDonald, the Ethel, purchased this spring by Lufkin & Tarr and the Sawyer, another down east craft recently bought there and owned and commanded by Capt. George E. Heckman. These crafts are at present engaged in seining and will probably continue as long as the mackerel are showing up.

Capt. William Harting of the Weasel, which sunk inside of Dog Bar Breakwater, while returning to port last winter, has a fine new boat built by Waddell at Rockport. She is one of the best adapted of the smaller boats engaged in gill netting and has been named the Evelyn H.

Another craft is the Annie T., built at Essex several months ago, especially for gill netting. She will be commanded by Capt. Arnold Tysber.

The Mystery will also be seen with the little fleet in command of Capt. Lewis Allard, formerly one of the crew of the Eagle.

Four More Coming From Michigan.

Besides these, will be four boats from Michigan, two of which are due here almost any day. The little crafts will make the passage through the Erie Canal, then out into the Atlantic until they reach this port. They will be an acquisition to the fleet that makes their headquarters at Atwood & Payne's wharf. The latter firm will probably have the largest number of crafts, probably no less than 12 in all, that will land their fish there.

Capt. Atwood is quite busy these days, getting nets ready and supervising other details for the fleet. He is inventor of a patent lift which is used on the crafts in reeling in the nets. The fitting out of a craft is quite an expense, for no less than three sets of nets are necessary. There is always a gang employed on shore mending and repairing each day, and commencing the latter part of next month and continuing until early spring, there will be a renewed activity at the several wharves where the crafts make their headquarters.

Sept. 21.

Parsons on Deck.

Capt. Wallace Parsons has arrived from his home at the Bay of St. George, N. F., taken command of sch. Lizzie M. Stanley, and sailed on a seining trip today.

Week's Receipts at T Wharf.

For the week ending September 19, there were 58 arrivals of groundfish at Boston, totalling 1,663,650 pounds, against 68 arrivals with 2,014,600 pounds for the same period in 1911.

Shipped Some Tinkers.

Steamer R. J. Kellick was at Hyannis yesterday with 35 barrels of fresh tinker mackerel which were shipped to Boston.

LATEST SALES OF SALT MACKEREL.

The salt mackerel fare of sch. Arthur James and Monarch sold to George W. Clatur Company of Boston at $13.50 for small and $23 for large.

The salt mackerel fare of sch. Har-mony sold to the Frank E. Davis Fish Company for the lump sum of $2250. The craft had 33 barrels of large and 111 barrels of small mackerel.

The salt mackerel fare of sch. Dor-cas was purchased by George Perkins & Son. There were five barrels of large which brought $24 a barrel, and 22 barrels of small which sold for $13.25 a barrel.

Mackerel Catch and Imports.

The catch of salt mackerel for the season to date is 5637 barrels against 6095 barrels for the same period in 1911.

The fresh mackerel catch to date is 29,952 barrels as compared with 41,531 barrels last year.

Imports of salt mackerel received at Boston to date amount to 8670 barrels. In 1911 for the same period, there was 6095 barrels.

Fresh mackerel imports landed at Boston to September 20 were 4977 barrels, against 4387 barrels last year.

New Sardine Factory.

The new factory which the Canadian Sardine company has nearly completed at Chamcook, N. B., will employ when in full operation about 600 girls. About 150 have already been brought from Norway. The factory will be one of the largest and best equipped canning establishments in Canada, and a small town is already springing up around it. Sir William Van Horne is the president of this company.

More Big Stocks.

Sch. Monarch, Capt. John F. Vautier stocked $4374 from her recent seining trip, the crew making the fine share of $97.45 as their part of the proceeds.

Sch. Pinta, Capt. Douglass McLean, stocked $4172 on her last seining trip each of the crew sharing $95.13 to a man, clear.

Provincetown Fish Notes.

Squid were reported plentiful at Provincetown last week.

From 50 to 60 feet of the wharf owned by Capt. Joseph Manta collapsed a week ago last Friday. The sch. Philip Manta, having quit fishing, was tied up at about half way of the wharf and owing to the very high tides there was a heavy strain on the wharf, which was probably weak at that point, causing the piling to give way carrying down the whole section of the wharf from east to west.

Owing to reported friction between the Boston owners of sch. Josephine de Costa and Capt. Marion Perry, master of the vessel, Capt. Perry has given up the craft and another captain is to take her and continue in the fresh fish business.

Newfoundland Fishing News.

Seal Cove—Fish and bait scarce.
Harbor Grace—Squid and codfish scarce.

Lark Harbor—Boats doing well.
With the exception of one or two all the vessels are on their way home to St. John's the majority with fairly good catches. The scarcity of bait proved to be a great loss. It is expected that the last of them will leave there during this week. Fish has been very scarce the past three weeks. At some places no fish at all is reported.

The following bankers arrived at Greenspond since a week ago Satur-day, and from Labrador with the following cargoes: Lark's Pair with 500 qtls.; Lady A., 400 qtls.; and the Ne-reid, 700 qtls.; they reported other bankers bound home to Greenspond all fairly well fished.

Portland Fish News.

Fishing vessels found it a hard night on the water Thursday night and as a result little or no fish was brought into the Portland market Friday. The seas were rough and toward morning the driving rain storm made it hard to do any fishing so the fleet returned to port with but little or no fish in the majority of instances.

FOUND HALIBUT VERY SCARCE.

Capt. Greenleaf of Sch. Kineo Home from Quero With a Small Fare.

Arrivals at this port since Satur-day's report include one dory hand-liner, one halibuter and two from salt drifting.

Sch. Elector, Capt. Daniel Ryder, is at home after a five and one half months' dory handlining trip. As in the case of the other crafts of the fleet, Capt. Ryder found fish scarce, securing only 100,000 pounds during the trip.

Sch. Helen G. Wells and Olympia from salt drifting have 38,000 pounds and 35,000 pounds respectively.

Sch. Kineo, Capt. Nathaniel Green-leaf, arrived Saturday from Quero. Capt. Greenleaf shipped part of his halibut home previously and brought but 1200 pounds with him, besides 45,000 pounds of fresh fish and 15,000 pounds of salt cod. He reports fish very scarce.

The torchers brought in about 30 barrels of herring yesterday. None of the boats were out last night.

Today's Arrivals and Receipts.

The arrivals and receipts in detail are:
Sch. Helen G. Wells, salt drifting, 38,000 lbs. salt cod.
Sch. Olympia, salt drifting, 35,000 lbs. salt cod.

FRESH FISH IN GOOD SUPPLY.

Many Fine Fares Among the 17 Vessels at T Dock Today.

T wharf dealers had a good supply of fresh fish on hand when business resumed for the week this morning, there being 17 trips at the dock, some with good sized fares.

There was no mackerel among the fresh groundfish. Haddock and cod were in plentiful quantity, although prices were very moderate.

Haddock sold at $1.25 to $2.25 per hundred pounds; large cod, $5 to $5.60; market cod, $2.50 to $3.25; hake, $1.50; pollock, $3 to $5; and cusk, $2.

Boston Arrivals.

The fares and prices in detail are:

Fishing Fleet Movements.

Schs. A. Platt Andrew and Mary F. Curtis were at Canso, N. S., on Wednesday last and cleared for fishing.

Lockport Fishing Notes.

Good catches of herring continue to be made at Lockport. Swim's Bros. trap had about seventy-five barrels last Monday morning. The fishermen generally are getting good catches in their nets.

Mackerel continue to be caught in fair quantities. Swim Bros. got about twelve barrels Tuesday morning, and the net fishermen, also did fair.

Making Big Money.

Sch. Frances S. Grueby stocked $4100 as the result of her last two haddock-ing trips, the crew sharing $125 to a man clear.

TWO FARES IN AT NEWPORT TODAY.

There is but little in the line of news from the seining fleet, not an arrival being reported at Boston today, although it is not all unlikely that some of the fleet will come along most any time with a trip, for the fish are still hanging to the southward.

A special dispatch to the Times this forenoon, announces the arrival of two crafts there yesterday. They are sch. Little Fannie, Capt. Charles Nelson who landed 66 barrels of fresh mackerel and sch. Reliance with 50 barrels.

Small Fare at Portland.

But few mackerel are now being picked up by the Portland fishermen. The schooner Bernie and Bessie came in Friday with 500 pounds, and lesser amounts were brought in by some of the small boats, none of them having enough to make it a paying proposition.

Sept. 21.

NO ARRIVALS AT T WHARF.

Steam Trawler and Two Swordfishermen Came There Yesterday

It was the quietest morning for several months at T wharf, Boston this morning, and the dealers could have closed early just as well as at noon, as far as the receipts of ground-fish were concerned, for not an arrival of any description was reported.

Yesterday afternoon, the steam trawler Ripple arrived at the dock with 50,000 pounds of haddock and 700 weight of cod, while schs. Eliza Ben-ner and Stranger had a few sword-fish which sold at 12 1-2 cents a pound.

Boston Arrivals.

The fares and prices in detail are:
Str. Ripple, 38,000 haddock, 700 cod.
Sch. Elizer Benner, 7 swordfish.
Sch. Stranger, 13 swordfish.
Swordfish, 12 1-2 cts. per lb.
