BOHEMIA HOME FROM BANK TRIP

Gill Netters Fares of Nice
 New Pollock Still Going to Split.

One off shore arrival put in appearance here this morning, sch. Bohemia arriving at noon from a salt trawl banking trip.

Two small fares were here this morning, sch. Frances J. O'Hara, Jr., bringing down 10,000 pounds of fresh fish from Boston to split, while sch. Mary DeCosta landed 15,000 pounds of fresh fish.

The gill netters made some good hauls of pollock yesterday afternoon. Several of the trips went to the Gloucester Salt Fish Company, while the Cunningham & Thompson Company, Gorton-Pew Fisheries Company and George Perkins & Son took the others to salt.

Two of the Newburyport boats landed 80 barrels of herring here last evening and this morning, while the local torchers also took some fish.

Steamer R. J. Kellick which has been engaged in seining since last summer under Capt. Charles H. Harty will now fit for gill netting.

STORM DROVE BOATS TO PORT

Gill Netters Yesterday Had Biggest Day of Season
 Thus Far.

Last evening's storm which was accompanied by a high wind and heavy sea drove the shore crafts back to port, consequently quite a fleet of pollockers and the torchers were here this morning.

Sch. Avalon arrived from the Cape Shore with 50,000 pounds of fresh fish and 6000 weight of halibut, the latter selling to the American Halibut Company this forenoon. Down from Boston are several of yesterday's arrivals, including schs. Frances V. Sylvia with 12,000 pounds, Adeline with 10,000 pounds of fresh fish and sch. Arethusia 6000 pounds salt cod.

Yesterday was the biggest day that the gill netters have had since the commencement of the season. All the crafts landed good catches of pollock, the Ethel having 12,000 pounds, the largest fare, while the Nashawena, Philomena and Quoddy each had 10,000 pounds. The trips were sold to the splitters to salt.

A HERRING IS JUST A HERRING

A herring is a herring. Assistant Secretary Curtis so answered yesterday the question: What is a herring? which has been before the Treasury Department for many months.

It was recently discovered that many importations of sardines were coming into the United States under the guise of herring, the duty on which is considerably lower than on other fish.

The Treasury Department made a deep study of the families and relationship of fish, deciding that anchovies, bristling, sardines, sprats, pilchards and alewives are not herring and should be assessed 3 per cent, ad valorem duty when shipped in tins or one per cent. when shipped in casks, etc. The decision becomes effective in 30 days.

PORT OF GLOUCESTER.

Arrived Today.

- Tug Piscataqua, towing barge Greenland, Portsmouth for Boston.
- Steamer Jonas H. French, Plum Island for Boston.
- Steamer Leviathan, Plum Island for Boston.
- Tug P. O. Riordan, Boston.
- Sch. Smith Tuttle, Gardiner for Boston.

THE FATHER OF ALL LOBSTERS

A mammoth lobster, weighing 15 1/2 pounds, caught by one of the gill netters yesterday, is on exhibition at Dennison's fish market window, and is attracting considerable attention.

HALIBUT 20 CENTS A POUND

Halibut which has been a pretty scarce quantity in the fish market for several days took a big jump in price this morning, when 6000 pounds of sch. Avalon sold to the American Halibut Company at 20 cents a pound for white, 16 1/4 cents for gray and six cents for chicken. This is the highest price paid this year.

Sandy Point, N. S., Fish Notes.

Mackerel are still running, the boats taking from 20 to 50 large and from 100 to 500 tinkers.

The boats are taking from three to four barrels of large herring each morning.

Sch. Tacmo, McCush master, sheltered here during the storm. She had 3000 pounds of fish.

Sch. Lucinda I. Lowell Wilson master, deck fishing: Aspinet, Brigham master, from Gloucester; Mystery, Mason master from halibuting, were among the vessels to shelter here recently.

Sch. Elizabeth N. Forbes master, arrived here a few days ago from a dory handlining trip with a fare of 170,000 lbs. and later proceeded for home. A portion of the crew belongs here and they remained home.

Capt. John H. Thorburn's trap was up during the storm and thus escaped damage.

Sch. Tacoma, Capt. Daniel McCush, has been in port for shelter. She has 3000 pounds halibut.

Other vessels which have been here recently are the schs. Mystery, Aspinet, Fannie A. Smith, Laverna and Lucinda I. Lowell.

The recent storm has done much damage to the nets of the fishermen here. Many of them have lost from one to three nets per boat.

Mackerel are still being taken here. The daily average per boat is about 250 tinkers and 30 large fish.

The Thorburn trap, which was taken up on account of the storm, will be put out again shortly. The season has on the whole, been a successful one for Mr. Thorburn.

Lost Anchor and Some Cable.

Because he had lost an anchor and 90 fathoms of cable, Capt. Thomas Crowell was forced to give up his fishing trip and put into Portland. He arrived at Portland Monday morning in the sch. William H. Moody. Only 900 pounds of halibut were on board and these were sold to the New England Fish Co. for 15 cents a pound for whites and 12 cents for grays. The schooner also had 15,000 pounds of salt fish which were taken to Gloucester.

At the time of the accident, the Moody was fishing on Brown's bank. She left Portland two weeks ago after baiting here and it was soon after her arrival a heavy wind came up and the hawser parted. The schooner took on a new anchor and cable and departed for the grounds.

Mackerel at Barrington.

The Barrington correspondent of the Yarmouth Telegram says: Large catches of mackerel are being made. Two young men at Doctor's Cove were paid $66 for their catch on Saturday. At Cark's Harbor several men made is high as $75 each in one day.

One hundred and nine barrels of mackerel were shipped by train from Barrington Passage station one day recently for Boston.

Steam Trawling Off Brazil.

The new steam trawler at Bahia, Brazil, seems to be doing excellent work. A few days ago it went out to trawl and shortly returned with a catch of no less than 25,000 pounds of fish. The trawling was done at a depth of some 600 feet and among the fish taken were some specimens which have never been seen in port before.

Mackerel from Provinces.

The steamer Boston, Captain Simms, which arrived at noon yesterday at Boston from Yarmouth, N. S. brought in 531 barrels of fresh mackerel for T wharf dealers. The fish sold at fancy prices.

Minto Fast in Hudson Bay Ice.

The Canadian government steamer Minto is fast in the ice in Hudson Bay and it is feared may be held prisoner until spring. If she cannot force a passage through the strait she will go into winter quarters at Port

ANOTHER SALT BANKER HOME

Sch. Senator Gardner Brings But 140,000 Pounds of Salt Cod.

The few remaining salt bankers are arriving home one by one, sch. Senator Gardner returning yesterday from a four and one half months' trip her second bank fare of the season with 140,000 pounds of salt cod. Another fare to arrive yesterday was sch. Claudia from Georges handling with 30,000 pounds of salt cod and 1200 pounds of fresh halibut. The halibut fare was purchased by the American Halibut company at yesterday's market prices.

The gill netters did not have so good a day yesterday as the previous one, about 75,000 pounds of pollock being landed, which sold to salt. Steamer Bethulia had the largest fare of the day, weighing out 18,000 pounds while the Quoddy had 14,000 pounds. The draggers were not out last evening, although some of the torchers ventured out in Ipswich Bay and secured about 60 barrels of herring which sold here this morning for bait.

Today's Arrivals and Receipts.

The arrivals and receipts in detail are: Sch. Claudia, Georges handling, 30,000 lbs. salt cod, 2000 lbs. fresh halibut. Sch. Senator Gardner, salt trawl banking, 140,000 lbs. salt cod. Fulton Fish Market. Notes.

The codfishing smacks landed 3700 fish last week. There were only two trips in the market.

Steak cod sold at 8 to 9 cents per pound during the week, with the exception of Wednesday and Thursday, when sales were made at 9 to 10 cents. Market cod was quoted at 6 cents on Thursday and Friday. During the remainder of the week the price was 4 to 5 cents.

Pollock sold at 2 and 4 cents a pound. Haddock sold at 4 to 5 cents the entire week, with the exception of Thursday, when some sales were made at 6 cents.

Hake reached 4 cents on Tuesday and Wednesday. During the remainder of the week the price was 2 to 3 1/2 cents.

Mackerel sold at 26 to 27 cents. Tinker mackerel reached $20 per barrel on Thursday. On that same day and on Wednesday and Friday sales were made at $18 per barrel. On Saturday $8 to $12 was the quotation, while on Monday and Tuesday tinkers could be purchased at $12 to $17.

The Cure Improved.

The curing of cod, ling, saith, haddocks and cusk, as reported by the Scottish Fishery Board, showed a further improvement last year, and there is a growing demand for the fish so prepared, says the Fish Trades Gazette. The quantity of cod cured dried was 121,465 cwt., or 20,732 cwt. more than in 1910. If for home use they are lightly salted, but if for export more heavily salted, and then dried either naturally in the sun, or artificially by hot air or coke fires. The sundried fish are considered the more palatable. They are sent to market in bundles of 1 cwt., and rolled in packsheets or in dry wood casks if for the home or the Spanish markets, and in air-tight boxes (containing not less than 90 lbs. of fish) lined with tin if for other markets.

Tons of Tautog.

The tautog fishing off the Massachusetts coast, especially near Manomet Point, is said to beat all previous years, as tons of these fish are being caught. One day recently three men caught 206, and one man alone in a dory, caught 64. They are good fish weighing from 5 to 12 pounds.

Notice to Mariners.

The Peaked Hill submarine bell buoy 2A was temporarily discontinued for repairs, according to a notice given out to mariners by the commissioner of lighthouses, though R. H. Goddard, inspector of the 2d district, yesterday. It will be replaced as soon as possible.

BIG PACIFIC CATCH OF COD

Recent reports from San Francisco state that the codfishing on the Pacific coast has been exceptionally good this season. Five cargoes arrived in San Francisco at the end of September, with a total catch of about 630,000 fish, mostly of large size. Although stocks in hand are large, the prices have been maintained so far, but will no doubt yield somewhat as the season advances. The quality of the fish is said to be good, and the fishing will be continued for some time yet. The total arrivals of the San Francisco fleet since January 1, are reported by the Pacific Fisherman as 1,425,984 fish and of the Puget Sound fleet at 461,000 fish, since August 26.

The Foreign Mackerel Situation.

An easy feeling prevails in both Norway and Irish mackerel, says the Fishing Gazette. A steady jobbing business is maintained on Nos. 1 and 2 Norways, but Nos. 3 and 4 are easier for the time being. Irish fat is also a little off, owing to a movement by some holders to clear off old stocks. A New York house says:

"The Norwegian fishermen have advanced their prices to such levels that American buyers have restricted their purchases, but fishermen, both in Norway and Sweden, are trying to hold on to their fish and are still asking those high prices. If American buyers do not weaken there is no doubt that we shall buy these mackerel at more reduced figures than those asked today. The first demand here is supplied and we can look on for a while without inconveniencing our trade."

Seapacked mackerel landed in Norway from the North Sea, and salted for export, amounted, up to October 12, to 47,526 bbls., against 50,269 bbls. in 1911, and 76,927 bbls. in 1910, to the same date.

As reported, October 14, the Irish mackerel landed and cured at Dingle during the previous week, amounted to about 200,000, the count being about 360 to the packed barrel. The shipments from Liverpool for week to October 19 were 6,368 barrels; New York Boston and Philadelphia taking 4908 and Montreal 1460 barrels. The total shipments to date were, 1912, autumn, 10,617 barrels; 1912, Norway, 3,847 barrels. The report to October 26 stated that the fishing was fair, and that the shipments for week to date were 4,248 barrels; Boston taking 248 barrels, and other parts 3,700 barrels. The count of shipments was 300 to 350.

Small Whale Catch.

Latest reports from Victoria, C. B., say that there are now seven of the whaling fleet put up in that port for the winter. The two latest arrivals are the William Grant, Capt. Heater, and the Green, Capt. H. Balcom, from the Rose Harbor station. The trio of steamers operating from Naden Harbor—the Brown, the Blue and the Black—are expected in shortly. These steamers have each taken about 100 whales. The total catch of the 19 steamers working from the four stations of the Canadian Northern Pacific Fisheries Company will be something over 100 whales, of which 20 were sperms. This is a smaller haul than was looked for.

Women in Fish Packing Factories.

A party of 30 young women from Newfoundland passed through North Sydney last week on their way to St. Andrews, N. B. They will be employed in the fish packing factory of the Canadian Canneries, Ltd., at Chamcook, Campobello. This company has already secured girls from other countries and only recently a party of 300 came from Sweden. The company has built boarding houses for its employes and these will have all modern improvements.
