

PRICES HOLD UP AT THE NEW PIER

Fulton Fish Market Notes.

There was no business to brag about last week as stock, with few exceptions, was very scarce and high of price. In all the vessels up to Thursday afternoon landed 487,995 pounds of fish, of which more than 50 per cent. were blues, regardless of the lateness of the season. In all 29 trips of bluefish reached the market. The smallest fare was 14 bushels of small blues. The combined weight of the bluefish was 267,995 pounds. The largest fare was 6,100 fish. Bluefish sold at 5 cents to a shilling, according to size and quality. The low-priced stock was only fair. Snapper blue brought 2 1/2 to 4 cents.

Market cod sold at 2 1/2 to 4 cents; steak cod, 5 cents to a shilling; haddock, 2 to 5 cents; hake, 2 to 6 cents, and pollock, 2 to 3 1/2 cents.

Western white halibut was quoted at 12 to 15 cents.

There were as many fresh mackerel in the market, as could be handled to advantage. Buyers did not seem to be very keen for that variety of fish. On Thursday large fish were quoted at 25 to 30 cents each, mediums at 16 to 20 cents, and small ones at 10 cents to a shilling. Friday prices for mackerel were 18 to 20 cents for large, 10 cents to a shilling for mediums and $8 to $10 a barrel for spikes.

PENSACOLA HAD A HEAVY WEEK

The week ending October 25 was one of the best that the fishing companies have known in a long time. While only 18 craft reached port, they carried a combined catch of 364,790 pounds of which 284,205 pounds were red snapper and 80,585 pounds were grouper. Of the eighteen smacks arriving, 11 came to E. E. Saunders & Co., seven to the Warren Fish Co. The Saunders' boats had the heaviest total, 215,465 pounds of which 164,870 pounds was red snapper and 50,595 pounds grouper. The seven boats coming to the Warren Fish Co. had good reports to make the total catch being 149,325 pounds of which 119,335 pounds was red snapper and 29,990 pounds grouper.

Taking the combined catch of the 18 crafts, each one had an average of 20,099 pounds. The 11 boats of E. E. Saunders & Co. showed an average catch of 19,587 pounds, while the seven boats of the Warren Fish Co. had an average catch of 21,332 pounds.

The biggest single catch of the week was 45,030 pounds grouper. The biggest catch made by a Saunders' craft was 42,495 pounds of which 29,425 pounds was red snapper and 13,070 pounds grouper. The smallest catch made by a Warren boat was 9,930 pounds, of which 6,635 pounds was red snapper and 3,295 pounds grouper. The smallest fare of a Saunders' boat was 6,000 pounds, of which 5,185 pounds was red snapper and 815 pounds grouper.

NORWAY FISH CATCHERS SORE

Says the Fishing Gazette editorially: The fishermen's Union of Norway is frankly displeased at the reception its representatives and its fish have received in this country. A representative of the union left for home a fortnight ago. He did not hesitate to say that his trip did not come up to anticipations. Several leading handlers of Norway mackerel in New York have rejected the mackerel consignments of the Fishermen's Union, which they ordered in good faith. They claimed that summer-caught fish had been mixed with fall-caught, and that representations of fall-caught fish exclusively had been made at time of sale. Is it possible that the Fishermen's Union of Norway or any other union think they can draw the wool over the eyes of the veteran fish handlers of New York City? 'Twere a costly experiment to attempt it.

E. C. HUSSEY HIGH LINE DRIFTER

Capt. Clifford Hopkins' Pet Craft Stocked $17,600 for the Season.

The highest stock by a vessel engaged in the fresh drifting branch of the fisheries, was made this year by Capt. Clifford Hopkins in sch. E. C. Hussey which has just completed her year's work.

Since April 14, when the Hussey sailed on her first trip, she has made the record stock of $17,600. As each man receives a share according to the number of the fish he catches, it is impossible to tell what the share is. It is sufficient to say that the owners, captain and crew, will profit well by a remarkable season's work.

In addition to making a record stock for the year, Capt. Hopkins has the honor of landing the largest single trip ever made by a fresh drifter. July 11, the Hussey landed 82,000 pounds of fresh fish from which the stock was $1700. The vessel will now be hauled up for the winter and Capt. Hopkins will return to his home in Barrington, N. S.

Foreign Mackerel.

Dingle, Ireland, October 16.—There were 120,000 mackerel landed here this week. Of these about 100,000 were cured, and will count about 370 fish to a packed barrel. The remainder were either canned or shipped to fresh markets.

Said an authority last Tuesday: "There has been better demand for Norway mackerel and larger sales have been made, although the demand is not as good as it should be, principally because there is a lot of poor Norway mackerel in the market, and the trade in Norway mackerel has become very particular."

Sea packed mackerel landed in Norway from the North Sea, salted for export to America, for the week ended October 10, 1914, 350 barrels; total amount to date, 35,458 barrels. Same week in 1913, 1800 barrels; total to date, 36,215 barrels.—Fishing Gazette.

DOG FISH $4 A TON AT CANSO

Writing to the Canadian Fisherman, the Canso, N. S., correspondent says:

The swordfish season in this vicinity has just drawn to a close. After October comes in, very few are evidence among the fares landed. The closing season has been a successful one all around. The quantity secured has been fairly large, and the price obtained up to the average. It is rather interesting to note that the swords have been in good demand and incidentally turning in an odd dollar. Cleaned by being towed for some time through the water, the shaped up and neatly fitted with soft or hard wood hilts, they make very attractive-looking weapons.

The American swordfisherman, Yankee, Capt. Ben Lumsden, has been in port a number of times since the run of swordfish has been on. Capt. Lumsden is a Canso boy who has "made good" as a skipper. He is uniformly successful both in getting the quantity and generally in striking a good market. I am told that the present season is making a close run for high line.

The yacht formerly owned by Prof. Porter, who has a summer resort in this county, was bought recently by P. T. Smith of the Portland Packing Co., who after installing a gasoline engine converted her into a fishing craft, with Capt. Lewis Furro in command.

About the middle of September dogfish were reported plentiful at Port Hood and Louisburg. Of course by the end of the month they had reached Chedabucto Bay. A long spell of weather had left the Dogfish Reduction Works without the necessary supply of water, but fortunately, just when needed a heavy rain brought relief and so the plant was enabled to commence operations early in October. In spite of rather wild weather up to date, the fishermen have kept the works busy with good supply of the "dogs" for which the usual price of $4 per ton is being paid.

During the heavy wind-storm of last few days of September, E. Goodwin unfortunately lost his craft, which was set off French Point.

Porto Rico Fish Market.

Codfish.—Prices have continued rule low and actual sales are being made in this market at $30.50 and per cask. We hear also of still lower offers made on a c.i.f. basis by New York exporters. In Ponce, where the situation has been so unsatisfactory for the last few weeks, we notice better feeling and increased demand and the same may be said of other sections of the island.

Pollock and haddock.—No change report in the quotation of $24 to $25 per drum of 448 lbs. "net ex wharf" which are being held firm at the various ports.—S. Ramirez & Co.

SALADIN IS HIGH LINE OF SEINERS

Capt. John Matheson's Stock is Nearly $26,000—Several Other Craft of Mackerel Fleet Had a Very Profitable Season.

The season for the seiners has ended and the total stocks for the year have been added up, showing that sch. Saladin, Capt. John Matheson, from the firm of Cunningham & Thompson, leads the fleet by a wide margin, having stocked for her season's work nearly $26,000, from which the crew have shared nearly $500.

Four others of the seining fleet stand out prominently, with the Saladin as big money makers. In second place is sch. Arthur James, Capt. Archie Devine, from the firm of M. W. Ten and Son; sch. Rob Roy, Capt. Lemuel Flith, owned by the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Company; sch. Lottie G. Merchant, Capt. Ralph Webber, and sch. Marguerite Haskins, Capt. Reuben Cameron, both from the firm of William H. Jordan & Company.

The stocks and shares made this year have been the best for years. Although the five vessels named are the leaders of the fleet, others have made good stocks, ranging between $10,000 and $14,000.

Owing to the comparatively low price paid for salt mackerel from the North Bay, this trip did not add as much to the stocks and shares as had been expected. In most cases the stocks were not over $2,000 and the shares less than $50.

Sch. Lottie G. Merchant did not make a trip to the bay, her fine stock being the result of fishing previous to that trip. Before the fleet left for the Bay she was in second place, but two vessels made enough on that trip to displace her.

Following are the gross stocks and shares made by the five high liners:

Sch. Saladin	$25,850.00	$498.74
Sch. Arthur James	$20,017.45	$396.89
Sch. Rob Roy	$18,779.73	$377.73
Sch. Lottie G. Merchant	$18,635.00	$375.67
Sch. Marguerite	$16,841.00	$335.00

Sch. Benjamin A. Smith, Capt. Martin L. Welch, stocked $13,154.81 for the season's work.

The season for the seiners opened about the middle of April and lasted till the first of November.

The largest single trip of the year was landed August 26 by sch. Mary E. Harty, Capt. Ambrose Fleet, another of the Jordan fleet, stocking $5100 and sharing $119.83.

On one settlement for two trips of fish landed, sch. Saladin stocked $6100 and the crew shared $128.

STEAMER DUE WITH COD FROM ICELAND

For the first time in the history of the fisheries of Gloucester, a Norwegian steamer will arrive here today or tomorrow with a cargo of 1,500,000 pounds of salt cod from Iceland to be taken jointly by the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Company and the Cunningham and Thompson company. In addition to being the first cargo ever received here direct from Europe, it will also be the largest amount of fish ever brought into Gloucester in one bottom. With the passage of the Underwood tariff bill, which allows the entry of "green" fish into this country, free of duty, the number of cargoes from Nova Scotia and Newfoundland have largely increased.

It has also opened up a market for Iceland fish, several large shipments having been made to this country since last fall and quite a lot of the fish from there has found its way to this city, and the quality has proven highly satisfactory.

The arrival of a cargo by steamer, however, is the first to be sent by water and marks a new era in the local fishing industry.

NOT SELLING TO OUR VESSELS

Some Bay of Islands Fishermen Are Packing Their Own Herring.

Says the Halifax Herald: Herring which have been numerous in Middle and North Arms of Bay of Islands for three weeks or more, have slackened during the past week.

Edward Baldwin of Middle Arm, is said to have secured about 300 barrels of herring to date.

At Farquhar and company's packing premises, at Middle Arm, things have been humming since the herring struck in; and gangs of men are working day and night curing the fish for export.

Along the northern shore of North Arm the herring catch on Wednesday ranged from 10 to 20 barrels per fleet of nets, while on Saturday the catch averaged about five tubs, the body of herring having moved out near Green Island, and may later strike into Middle Arm.

Some two or three American schooners have so far arrived for herring cargoes; but many of the Bay of Islands fishermen are not depending on that method to dispose of their herring, as they have provided themselves with barrels and have resolved to pack and export at least a portion of their catch themselves.

Mr. Jewell will continue the "Scotch" method of cure this season; and we understand that Mr. Thorne also will go into the herring business.

There is a sign of herring at Bonne Bay, and fishermen there are preparing for a big voyage.

Nov. 6

TWO MORE GOOD DRIFT STOCKS

Two other fine stocks made this year in the fresh drifting branch of the fisheries are those of sch. Good Luck, Capt. James A. Goodwin and sch. Virginia, Capt. William Kendrick. Each of these vessels has stocked a little over $15,000 for their season's work which will probably put them in second place in this branch. Sch. Virginia has given up drifting and has changed to haddocking and sch. Good Luck is hauling up and her skipper will return to Lower Wood's Harbor, N. S., for the winter. Although these stocks are above the average, the entire fleet has done well this year.

AN OLD FRIEND IN NEW DRESS

Sch. Independence II Home From Fishing Today Flying the British Flag.

Flying the English Jack, sch. Independence II, Capt. Newman Wharton, formerly hailing from this port, but now under British register, arrived during the night with 180,000 pounds salt cod for the Cunningham & Thompson Company.

This is the second trip of the Independence since she changed hailing ports. Capt. Wharton has already landed one salt fare at St. John's, N. F. She put in at Liverpool, N. S., a few days ago, and after taking off her dories and clearing, set sail for here.

The only other off shore today is sch. Victor, Capt. Wesley Farmer from North Bay, with 10 barrels salt mackerel.

Yesterday's gill netting receipts totaled some 180,000 pounds, mostly pollock which went to the splitters. Quite a bunch of the fleet that have been fishing in Ipswich Bay have splited down off Thacher's, while others have gone to the Ridges. The fishermen report dog fish and monk fish as still being plentiful. Shad have struck off and only a few fish are being taken.

Steamer Sawyer shipped a mammoth shark to Boston this week which was taken in the nets. It weighed over 500 pounds.
