NO ARRIVALS AGAIN TODAY

STORM-BOUND FLEET SETS SAIL FOR GROUNDS TODAY.

Another fishless day confronted local dealers this forenoon at the close of the week's business, for the entire fleet, storm-bound for the past few days, still remained tied up at their berths and not a pound of fish of any kind was landed at any of the local wharves.

Two of the local fleet at Boston with fares yesterday ,came here to refit for fishing, among them being the Oretha F. Spinney, Capt. Carl Olson ,to refit for halibuting. Most of the local fleet of draggers and trawlers sailed this morning, but those remaining in port, will have sailed before nightfall.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home, 55 Court road, Winthrop, and interment will be at Chatham.

LIGHTS RECEIPTS SINCE SATURDAY

GILL NETTERS, DRAGGERS AND TRAWLERS LANDED SMALL SUPPLY OF FISH.

Local receipts of fresh fish here since Saturday, were light, in fact, not enough fish having been landed in the past 72 hours to fill the orders on hand.

Saturday, only three gill netters hauled their gear, after having been weather-bound for several days, they having but 2800 pounds of groundfish. Yesterday four gill netters went out for their gear, and their total landings amounted to 3500 pounds. Seven draggers and trawlers have arrived since Saturday, but their total was only 9000 pounds. Two of the Channel fishermen from Boston, ran in for harbor and will tie up until the weather moderates suffiicently to enable them to sail for the fishing grounds.
