

Peril St.

EXTRACT FROM
1923 REPORT BY WARDEN H. H. HUNGERFORD

July 12 - 24

BARANOF ISLAND.

Lake Eva Stream carries a considerable volume of water. Comes out of two rather large lakes about a mile back from the salt water. Must have considerable watershed for even during the last season, which was very dry, the flow of water was good. The bed of the outlet runs over mossy rock with practically no gravel. All spawning fish must enter the lakes and spawn in the feeder streams.

On July 12, there was an excellent showing of salmon at the mouth of the stream, redds, humps and dogs, but as no stream watchman was available and the natural conditions favorable, a number of the fish for this stream were caught inside the markers.

On July 24, no salmon were noted at the mouth or up the stream.

Cut-throat and Dolly Varden salmon were very abundant in and at the mouth of the stream on both visits.

July 20.

Creek at Deadman's Reach, Peril Straits, has a number of branches, all rather large but only one had water enough for salmon at the time of our visit, and that could accommodate but few. Is a series of streams coming out of flat country and dependent on abundant rainfall

Probably has a run of late dogs and coho; is not likely to be an early stream. No salmon observed at time of visit.
