

For release By Major A.H. Thiessen
Oct. 2, 1939 Science Service Meteorologist

Special forecasts! These forecasts are made for the use of certain industries or for sports like skiing or skating. Some are now being used in connection with such widely diverse things as aviation, storms at sea and protection of orchards. Now that winter is coming on, and as efforts are made to keep highways as well as railroads open, special forecasts could cover all kinds of transportation on land. Such forecasts are useful not only to those who use the transportation facilities, but particularly to those who keep the roads open and usable. A foreknowledge of the amount of snow expected would be valuable too in the work of clearing roads, streets and railroad tracks.
